	Tools of Data Collection - Qualitative	Mr. Andrew Michael Department of Sociology
1:10 pm to 1:30 pm	Concluding Remarks & Feedback

8:30 am to 8:45 am	Introductory Remarks

The session started with the blessings of Almighty! Ms. Anamika, MA Sociology student of Loyola College of Social Sciences introduced the workshop and invited Ms. Parvathy Nair, faculty, Department of Social work to address the Welcome Speech. The workshop was inaugurated by Rev. Fr. Sunny Kunnappallil S.J., Rector and Manager, Loyola Institutions and shared his valuable experiences while doing research. Dr. Saji P. Jacob, Principal, Loyola College of Social Sciences felicitated the programme by his valuable words. He also emphasized the relevance of Research among the five domains of the college. He also wished all the success for the programme and the students shall be updated in the research methodology through this workshop. Dr. Nisha Jolly Nelson, Asst. Professor & Head, Department of Sociology, and Research-in-charge, Loyola College of Social Sciences detailed the participants about the workshop. She specified that the research wing of the college has planned many upcoming activities for the college for the benefit of students and the objective of the workshop was to give an overview about research to the students. The outcome of the workshop would be individual synopsis presentation by the students at the college level as a prior to conduct their dissertation. At the end of each session, MCQ was provided to the students to check their knowledge in research. She also mentioned that those students who attended all the sessions would be given e-certificate and based on the scores for the MCQ, an appreciation certificate would be provided to selected students. Dr. AmmuLukose, Department of Counseling Psychology, Loyola College of Social Sciences addressed the Vote of Thanks for the programme.

DAY 1 - 22 June 2021, Wednesday

8:45 am to 10 am	Philosophy of Social Science Research	DrSaji P Jacob, Principal
-------------------------	--	----------------------------------

Dr.Saji P Jacob, Principal of Loyola College of Social Sciences who is also Associate Professor of Department of Sociology started the session with a query to the participants ‘Why Philosophy of Social Science Research? Why do we think of Philosophy while doing Social Science Research?’ The participants gave different feedbacks on this query which initiated a discussion in the beginning of the session. He explained the affinity of Philosophy with all the disciplines of learning and mentioned that Philosophy is the foundation from where the other disciplines have emerged. He also explained the philosophical concepts like Epistemology, Ontology and Methodology in Research. The students interacted with the Resource Person and clarified their doubts during the session.

10:20 am to 11:10 am	Statement of the Research Problem and Reviewing the Literature	Dr. Jasmine Sarah Alexander, Department of Social work

The second session for the workshop was on ‘Statement of the Research Problem and Reviewing the Literature’ was taken by Dr.Jasmine Sarah Alexander, Asst. Professor, Department of Social Work of Loyola College of Social Sciences as a continuation to the first session. She discussed on the steps in research process such as how to identify a Research problem, verify ideas, how to frame a problem statement, Literature review and how to organize and evaluate the available Literature. The session gave the students an outline of the basic steps of the research process.

	Objectives	Ms.Parvathy Nair Department of Social work
11:30 am to 12:10 pm	Research Questions	Mr. AbyTellas Department of Personnel Management
	Pilot Study & Pretest	Dr.Nisha Jolly Nelson Department of Sociology

Ms.Parvathy Nair, faculty of Department of Social Work, Loyola College of Social Sciences dealt the session on Research Objectives. She explained how to formulate objectives in Quantitative research and the importance of specific objectives in leading the study forward to generate the relevant reports as well.

Mr.AbyTellas, Asst. Professor, Department of Personnel Management of Loyola College of Social Sciences handled the session on ‘Research Questions’ and explained the tips to frame research questions in research. The important points were Describing and exploring the questions, evaluating and testing the research questions. He mentioned that developing strong research questions had to be given more focus and specificity is also very important.

Dr. Nisha Jolly Nelson, Asst. Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, Loyola College of Social Sciences took the next session on the basic concepts of ‘Pilot Study & Pretest’. Resource person clearly explained the concepts of pilot study and pre-test to the participants. The feasibility of the study would be done with the help of pilot study with small number of participants. The pre-test would be conducted after the tool for the research is formed and testing of the tool could be conducted through pre-test.

The students asked their questions after these three sessions to the resource persons and clarified their doubts.

12:30 pm to 1:10 pm	Hypothesis, Concepts & Variables	Dr.Angelo Mathew Department of Personnel Management
--------------------------------	---	--

The afternoon session was taken by Dr. Angelo Mathew, Asst. Professor of Department of Personnel Management on the ‘Hypothesis, Concepts & Variables’. He described the hypothesis, how to frame, test and validate hypothesis in research. He also discussed about the various types of variables that enriched the students on the various concepts in research.

DAY 2 - 23 June 2021, Wednesday

8:30 am to 9:10 am	Sampling - Probability	Dr. Leena S T Department of Counseling Psychology

The 2nd day began with a silent prayer. The first session was taken by Dr. Leena S T, Assistant Professor, Department of Counseling Psychology and the second session was handled by Dr. Francina P X, Asst. Professor, Department of Social Work of Loyola College of Social Sciences. 119 participants attended the session.

Dr. Leena S T explained the concepts of 'Sampling and probability' in research with examples that the participants could understand the concepts easily. She also described the four concepts like Population, sampling, element and sampling frame.

As a continuation to the previous session, Dr. Francina P X dealt with 'Non-probability Sampling'. The session helped the students to familiarize with the various non-probability sampling methods used in research as well as to understand the merits and demerits of non-probability sampling.

9:30 am to 10:10 am	Quantitative Design & Approaches	Dr. Prakash Pillai Department of Personnel Management

The session on Quantitative Research designs was handled by Dr. Prakash Pillai, Asst. Professor, Department of Personnel Management of Loyola College of Social Sciences. He emphasized that the function of a research design was to ensure that the evidence obtained enables us to answer the research questions as clearly as possible. He also gave a clear picture on the types of Research designs.

11:30 am to 12:10 pm	Qualitative Design and Approaches	Dr. Jyothi Krishnan Department of Disaster Management
---------------------------------	--	--

The session 'Qualitative Design and Approaches' by Dr. Jyothi Krishnan, Asst. Professor and Head of Department of Disaster Management of Loyola College of Social Sciences clearly depicted that the research designs involved the intersection of philosophies, strategies of inquiry and specific methods in research.

12:30 pm to 1:10 pm	Tools of Data Collection - Quantitative	Dr. AmmuLukose Department of Counseling Psychology
	Tools of Data Collection - Qualitative	Mr. Andrew Michael Department of Sociology

Dr. AmmuLukose, Asst. Professor, Department of Counseling Psychology elaborated on the Tools of Data Collection used in Quantitative research. She discussed the important perspectives in quantitative research, how to develop the tools, test and validate the tools for conducting quantitative research.

Mr. Andrew Michael, Asst. Professor, Department of Sociology took the session on Tools of Data Collection – Qualitative. He explained clearly the popular tools used in qualitative research like observation, review, discussion, in-depth interviews so that the students could easily understand the tools used in research.
