Introduction

Founded in 1963, Loyola College of Social Sciences, is affiliated to the University of Kerala. The College is managed by the Kerala Province of the Society of Jesus. It offers courses in MA (Master of Arts in Sociology), MSW (Master of Social Work), MAHRM (Master of Arts in Human Resource Management), MSc CP (Master of Science in Counselling Psychology) and MSW DM (Master of Social Work in Disaster Management). Loyola College is a recognized research centre of the University of Kerala, preparing students for Ph.D (Sociology, Social Work & Management Studies). Programmes of the Centre for Adult Continuing Education and Extension (CACEE) of the university of Kerala and also conducted at Loyola. A full-fledged Extension Department, Loyola Extension Services, is a unique feature of the College. The publication wing brings out a bi-annual journal, Loyola Journal of Social Sciences, and other occasional publications. We have an active alumni association founded in the year 1965.

True to the Jesuit tradition of MAGIS (Excellence), Loyola strives to reach the benefits of higher education to the people, especially the marginalised. In reaching this goal we are guided by the Ignatian vision of life and its application in Jesuit education.

Vision

Fostering excellence in thinking, commitment and engagement for holistic transformation

Fostering Excellence

Fostering excellence (Magis) implies the ceaseless striving to be better than the best. It also implies the emergent process that motivates all the stakeholders to achieve superior performance with active and continuous involvement in reforming the institutional practices and procedures.

Thinking

Thinking involves discernment, enabling all the significant actors to acquire a deeper and richer understanding of reality.

Commitment

Commitment starts with a decision driven by a purpose. The decision is to constantly reform the very system itself in order to transform all the primary stakeholders.

Engagement

We conceive of engagement as a primary tool for experiential learning that promotes self-directed behaviour and personal transformation.

Holistic Transformation

The vision statement articulates the institutional process of continuously reforming itself to facilitate the holistic transformation of our primary stakeholders. Loyola has an agile structure that enables a highly participative and decentralised mode of operations to achieve this at the individual, institutional, and societal levels.

Mission

Engaged competence enhancement for grooming globally competent, socially sensitive, ecologically responsive, ethically rooted thought leaders and agents of change.

Core Values

- Quest for excellence in learning and life (Magis)
- Responsible citizenship behaviour (Service and Sustainability)

- Promoting technology and innovation (Innovation)
- Nurturing spiritual quotient (Faith)
- Inculcating robust value system (Inclusiveness and Integrity)

Engaged Competence Enhancement (ECE)

ECE is the functional paradigm of Loyola, encompassing all our pedagogical and programmatic engagements. It evolved from revising the goal statements and sprucing up the organogram to move forward from the existing Engaged Knowledge Building (EKB) framework. ECE is anchored in five preferential domains known as PERCS —1) Programme Management, 2) Employability, 3) Research, 4) Community Engagement, and 5) Sustainability—by incorporating Knowledge, Skills, Values and Attitudes (KSVA) inherent in each of these domains.

OBE

Loyola follows the Outcome Based Education Framework (OBE) for effective curriculum delivery and assessment. OBE at Loyola is a fully customised framework evolved internally integrating Programme Outcomes (POs), Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs) and Course Outcomes (COs) in congruence with the institution's vision and legacy. The uniqueness of OBE in Loyola is that it maps the co-curricular and extracurricular engagements and the resulting changes in their competence level.

Goals of Jesuit Education

The pursuit of each student’s intellectual development to the full measure of God-given talents is a prominent goal of Jesuit education. However, it is not through a simple amassing of information and preparing for a profession, though they are important in themselves, the Jesuit education strives for its ideal. The ultimate aim of Jesuit education is the full growth of the person, which leads to action, that is suffused with the spirit and presence of Jesus Christ, God and Man-for-Others.

Hence, a student of Jesuit college should become a person who is “well-rounded, intellectually competent, open to growth, religious, loving and committed to doing justice in generous service to the people.” In other words, “we aim to form leaders in service, in imitation of Jesus, men and women of competence, conscience compassion, and commitment.”

We believe that true education occurs only when students and teachers respond to the social reality and are able to enter into a proactive relationship with people. Considering the Indian context, the College focuses on a secular and genuinely democratic approach to life and activities. We hope to build in our students a genuine commitment to life, people and the nature that sustains us.

The Universal Apostolic Preferences (UAP)

The Universal Apostolic Preferences of the Society of Jesus are a path to renewal of the Society of Jesus. The Preferences provide a spiritual path. They do not seek merely to establish static apostolic ends or actions but, rather, they are a dynamic means for us to continue to be led by the Spirit of renewal

The Universal Apostolic Preferences are orientations, not priorities. A priority is something that is regarded as more important than others; a preference is an orientation, a signpost, a call. Preferences are not just about doing but about being; they involve our entire life. They are calls extending over the next ten years. They are:

1. To show the way to God through the Spiritual Exercises and discernment.
2. To walk with the poor, the outcasts of the world, those whose dignity has been violated, in a mission of reconciliation and justice.
3. To accompany young people in the creation of a hope-filled future.
4. To collaborate in the care of our Common Home.
